Notwithstanding the increased enrollment reported in the Negro schools, there are still many children upon the streets in apparent idleness. 'An idle mind is the devil's work-

Instead of sending warships into Turkish waters to guard against the massacre of Christian missionaries who stir up foment in the pagan government, vessels should be sent to guard the southern section of our own country in order to prevent the lynching and burning of Christian citizens who are bearing the brunt of productive labor.

In all of the world's great wars the Negro has always been at hand to meet the crucial test. This is shown in the records of the Revolution, the Civil War and the Spanish-American conflict. Now it is noted that as soon as Jack Johnson got warmed up as a French soldier the German march against Paris was given a most serious setback.

Local Negro democrats boasted that through their influence the mayor would veto the school segregation ordinance almed against the location of the Baptist college. The mayor did veto the ordinance, but stated that he did not object to its provisions; he simply objected to the informal manner in which the act had been passed by the council. The principle of class hate involved was O. K.

> Pilson Young admits that it is no longer thought impolite for busy persons to send typewritten letters which may not treat of business. "But there is a piece of lariness which should not be tolerated, and that is the signing of a typewritten letter with a simile of the sender's handwriting. This really is to reduce what is individual in the communication to the vanishing point. There is nothing to show that your correspondent has ever seen the letter sent in his name. It is the least human of all methods of communication. For my part, I decline to answer or take any notice of a document so subscribed. It has honesty, of a personal circular." Mr. Young adds: "I notice that it is the members of the Thos., Chas, and Jno. brigade who are chiefly addicted to this unseemly practise.

"Reformers" Might Heed. Trollope, in describing John Bold, "The Warden," gives some advice reformers. "Bold is thoroughly sincere in his patriotic endeavors to mend mankind," says Trollope, "but," loan to the amount of £1,500,000 ($7. couple of years ago a Montreal jewel-299,750) in 6 per cent bonds, it was er bought a large diamond said to imbued with the idea that he has a special mission for reforming. It would be as well if one so young had a little more diffidence himself and more trust in the honest purposes of others—if he could be brought to be-lieve that old customs need not necessarily be evil, and that changes may possibly be dangerous." This was written fifty-nine years ago. Will anybody dare to suggest that the criticism still holds good?—Springfield Rerubber stam; purporting to give a fac- publican.
